Equality and Equity.- Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

We operate under two very different economic systems. On one hand, in society, the measure to which we claim a right is determined by the character and extent of our earning power. On the other hand, what is described in St. Paul's admonition to the Corinthians is more like the way economics operates in a family. There, one's need, rather than one's earning power, determines the measure of what we might claim as our right. Both systems are built on important, though sometimes different, values. The prominent economic system in today's world advocates equality as the value upon which it is built. This includes equal pay for equal work, but also equality of opportunity. The system Paul advocates for is built on issues of equity, which recognizes that all things are not equal. It insists that those who need more should receive more.

Both systems also face pitfalls. This could occur when a system based on equality does not operate on an "equal playing field." In such a situation, equality can lack justice. Then again, a system in which need or equity plays an important role must always be on the alert for idleness. Experience has shown that people tend to take advantage of either system.

In an ideal system, both values operate. This is what St. Paul is actually advocating. He does not expect the rich to become poor. However, he does insist that as a matter of justice, and not charity, legitimate needs should be met. After all, we all are called to join the household of God.

Prayer requests

We pray for those in our community who are sick, suffering or in hospital; especially those on our list of the sick: may they be comforted in their time of need and be restored to good health. We pray for those who have died; especially Ed Rising, uncle of Chandra Behrenz.

We also lovingly remember Stefanie Blanch, on the 1st anniversary of her death; and Elsie Yarmovich, mother of Christine and Marcel Casavant, on the 35th anniversary of her death; may they rejoice in the reward of everlasting life.
