17th Sunday in Ordinary Time –July 27th, 2025

The Power of Prayer -Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

“I’ll pray for you.” What a simple promise. When we make this promise, what do we expect it will accomplish? The sentence is really a statement of faith. It assumes a caring relationship between us and those for whom we pray. It presumes that the other person trusts that we do care. Most importantly, it acknowledges that there is so much we humans cannot achieve by ourselves, and so we turn in confidence to God that our needs are the concern of God as well.

Today’s first reading is the startling account of Abraham’s prayer for two sinful cities. He pleads with God to spare them for the sake of any righteous citizens found there. God is willing to do that if righteous citizens can be found. Abraham prays for people who do not deserve God’s mercy. But there it was. God’s mercy outstrips the most horrendous crimes. Abraham kept pleading with God, and God kept saying, “All right.” The same persistence in prayer is found in the gospel passage. The message there? Keep at it. We don’t know whether the praying will end as Abraham’s did or like that of the determined friend in the gospel. That’s not our concern, because the way prayer is answered belongs to God, not to us. So then why pray if we can’t be confident about the answer? Because we believe we are connected to each other, and together we stand in need before a loving God who wants the best for us.

Prayer requests

We pray for those in our community who are sick, suffering or in hospital; especially those on our list of the sick: may they be comforted in their time of need and be restored to good health.

We pray for those who have died, especially Cassie Hearn, mother of Catherine Baule and grandmother of Colton Baule; & Josephine Baranieski.

We also lovingly remember Joseph Hiebert & Teodoro Romero; may they rejoice in the reward of everlasting life.

Lord, on this World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly, we lift up all those who have nurtured us with their love and wisdom. May they feel your presence and be filled with your grace. Help us to cherish them, learn from them, and support them in every way. We pray for an end to loneliness and isolation among the elderly, and for a society that values and celebrates their contributions. May their lives be a testament to your enduring love and faithfulness. Amen.
