33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time –November 16th, 2025

The Day is Coming. - Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

Who does not get excited when they know that the day is coming? Which day? A wedding day, the birth of a child, the last day of school, the first day of retirement. We all look forward to special days.

Ancient Israel looked forward to the day of the Lord—that day when everything would be set right. Enemies would be scattered; the sick would be healed; the poor would know comfort; and all people would experience peace. Even though Israel had suffered terribly, God had made promises to their ancestors, and God always keeps promises. Initially, the people expected that day to be one of punishment and retribution for their enemies while they would enjoy vindication and blessing. Today's first reading asserts that Israel will enjoy no preference. If they sin, they also will face the righteous anger of God.

In the gospel passage, Jesus describes the terrifying events that will precede the destruction of the temple. This was probably less a prophecy of a future event than it was a warning of the suffering they might have to endure as his followers. Such suffering would pave the way for the fearful day of the Lord. If they persevered, such affliction would be purifying for them rather than punishing. Though the reading does not include mention of the day of the Lord, it would have been in the minds of those who heard Jesus' words. Many would believe that God's ancient promises were about to be fulfilled.

St. Anne's Parish Truth and Reconciliation Committee is committed to informing our congregation about opportunities to learn more about the journey of Truth and Reconciliation. Here is an opportunity that may interest you:

On Nov 25th the Mennonite Central Committee will be offering an opportunity to learn about the connections between identity, poverty, and mass incarceration. Participants take on different roles with varying resources and challenges, moving through a game to show how factors like race, socioeconomic status, and past criminal records affect a person's journey and can lead to or perpetuate the cycle of imprisonment. The game is called “ You Got Booked”, and is free to the public from 7 to 9. For more information, and to register, contact Heather Peters at heatherpeters@mccsk.ca.

*“The Lord said:
I think thoughts of peace and not of affliction.
You will call upon me, and I will answer you,
and I will lead back your captives from every place.”*
