12th Sunday in Ordinary Time – June 21st, 2026

In recent years something exceptionally prestigious happened to someone close to me. My wonder at this news evoked a desire to tell everyone, including strangers at the grocery store. I wanted to proclaim it "from the housetops."

My joy for this person could not be contained. Neither could I suppress the source of the joy—the information at the heart of it. It would have been like trying to subdue a fizzing-over bottle of shaken-up soda. There is only one direction to the flow, and that is out. Today's Gospel speaks about this inherent dynamism of truth; it cannot be covered up or kept secret.

Within Scripture Jesus reveals himself as "the way, and the truth, and the life."

Accordingly, just as death could not hold Jesus, who is life itself, any attempts to squelch truth will also fail. Truth will burst forth from any tomb in which it is placed.

This is reason for confidence.

Another source of confidence is the Father's attentive love for us whom he cherishes. After all, "even the hairs of your head are all counted." As believers we are thus exhorted to hold our fears in check: all will be known as we ourselves are known and loved. This is a wellspring of immeasurable joy. It is news to shout from the rooftops.
